The American delegates have emphatically stated that unless the choice falls upon a man of distinct constitutionalist sympathies, not necessarily a military chief or leader, but one who would command their confidence, there can be no hope of constitutional acceptance or any peace programme adopted here. Secondly, the United States govern-

Resolute covered the 15 miles to windward and return in 3 hours, 16 minutes, 41 seconds, the fastest time ever made over such an America's cup

The regatta committee announced that Vanitie allowed Resolute 3 min-utes, 13 seconds. This was the first time that the time allowance has been openly stated.

Resolute Captured Weather Berth. Resolute captured the weather berth at the line and led from the start. She increased her lead to 4 minutes, 15 seconds in the 15-mile thrash to windward against a 12-knot southwester. The Herreshoff creation also outran the Gardner boat for the first time to day, adding 34 seconds to her lead in the spinnaker run. The race was sailed in a steady breeze.

Defiance in Poor Shape,

The dropping out of Defiance was a distinct disappointment. The tri-city yacht, however, was in poor shape for racing, and trouble with a block which was partially repaired before the start did not improve her chances. Her skipper, George M. Pynchon, made a game effort to race. An ill-fitting game effort to race. An ill-ntting working topsail was set in place of a club topsail, but Defiance made no effort to fight for a place at the start. She hung about to the windward of the lightship and let Resolute and Vanitle frolic about and cross ahead. In fact, the Owen hoat was 29 seconds behind he Owen boat was 29 seconds behind the handleap signal. Once across, Mr. Pynchon split tacks with the other two yachts and took a long board inshore. Defiance was given a good full, but even then she did not head within a lozen points of the other two yachts, fighting it out to windward. She kept the port tack until close to the Jersey shore, when she came about and start ed after her rivals, who were then nearly two miles ahead. Chicago, June 10.—The subject of dress came before the women gathered here today for the biennial convention here today for the biennial convention of General Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, Cal., discussed it in its relation to morals, while the assemblage itself, by a great majority, exemplified the beauties of sartorial simplicity. Mrs. Burdette sald:

"With forbidden knowledge came self-consciousness, and with self-consciousness came the sense of shame and the protective garment—and thus and the protective garment—and thus did the transgressions of our first par-ents cover all future generations with a blanket mortgage of clothes which we are paying off with heavy interest.

No Regard for Health. "Whether clothes were first worn as an ornamental covering or for protection matters little, for we seem even to this day to consider the first of prime importance. No matter if the neck be exposed nearly to the waist-line and the limbs nearly half way to the knees, if only the style be followed; health and suggestiveness are lost sight of in the craze to be in fashion."
